

Visitor Regulations

for the Flossenbürg Concentration Camp Memorial

Welcome to the Flossenbürg Concentration Camp Memorial.

The grounds and buildings of the Flossenbürg Concentration Camp Memorial ("Memorial") are dedicated to commemorating the history of the concentration camp and its victims. The site contains cemeteries with the graves of several thousand people. For this reason, the Memorial has issued the following visitor regulations. We ask you to observe these rules of conduct throughout the entire Memorial grounds and buildings.

Please note:

- The buildings and structures of the Memorial as well as the exhibits on display are objects of irreplaceable value. Touching, taking, damaging or destroying them is not permitted. Visitors are liable for any damage caused by their behaviour.
 - We recommend that you refrain from visiting with children under the age of 12. Children under the age of 12 may only visit the Memorial site if accompanied and supervised by adults.
 - Group leaders and parents or guardians are responsible for ensuring that the people in their care behave appropriately.
 - If you leave the official paths within the Memorial grounds, you do so at your own risk. The Memorial assumes no liability in the event of an accident. In particular, paths that have not been gritted or cleared of snow and ice are not open to the public in winter.
 - In many areas, the Memorial site is accessible for visitors with disabilities. If you require assistance, please contact our staff.
 - The Memorial reserves the right to refuse admission, remove from its grounds or preclude from an event any person who has made or is making antidemocratic, antisemitic, racist or any other discriminatory remarks or statements which contradict the Foundation's purpose, or who belongs to parties or organisations that violate or oppose the liberal democratic basic order or are classified as anti-constitutional.
 - Filming and photography are allowed for personal, non-commercial purposes provided that they do not interfere with other visitors and that the personal rights of other visitors are not infringed.
 - The verbatim reproduction of the content of guided tours, in full or in part, in film, audio or print, in the print media or on the internet (including social media), requires the prior consent of the Memorial management.
 - CCTV is in use in the Memorial grounds and buildings for the purpose of monitoring adherence to admission rules, public safety and crime prevention. The data collected is processed in accordance with data protection laws.
- manufacture or distribution is associated with the far right or which in all objectivity contradict the fundamental values or the purpose of the Foundation.
 - Wearing or carrying flags, banners, badges, items of clothing or body decorations and adornments, or shouting slogans, which by their nature and content are likely to degrade or humiliate others on the grounds of skin colour, religion, gender, age, physical disability, physical appearance or sexual orientation, or which display symbols of anti-constitutional organisations.
 - Any breach of sections 86 and 86a of the German Criminal Code (StGB) (concerning the use of symbols of anticonstitutional organisations) will be reported to the police, and any offenders will be removed from the premises.
 - Bringing animals onto the site (except assistance dogs) and entering the site with any kind of vehicle (except mobility aids).
 - Hosting events with no connection to the history of the site, or events at which the history of the site is denied, trivialised or glorified.
 - Conducting guided tours and educational events against payment by third parties.
 - Distributing printed material of any kind without prior agreement.

The following are permitted only with prior written authorisation of the Memorial:

- Events, commemorative ceremonies as well as musical and artistic performances.
- Any form of commercial activity, such as photography and filming, the sale of goods or advertising for events, goods and services of any kind.
- The use of drones.
- The use of flash photography, artificial lighting or tripods in the exhibitions.
- Visitor or staff surveys.

All staff at the Memorial are instructed to enforce the visitor regulations and rules of conduct. They are authorised to reprimand inappropriate behaviour, to order visitors to leave the premises and to enforce such orders. In the event of non-compliance or a breach of the visitor regulations, the Memorial reserves the right to take further action.

These visitor regulations apply throughout the entire grounds and buildings of the Memorial, including the Wurmstein quarry and the memorial cemetery in the village centre.

Flossenbürg, September 2026
